The Alabama Claims Referred to a Commission—The Proposed Change of Democratic Candidates Abandoned—Appointments—Receipts from Customs—Naval and Military.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22, 1868.

THE ALABAMA CLAIMS.

Mr. Seward has received dispatches from Minister Johnson, stating that the Alabama claims are to be referred to a commission for arbitrament, of which the King of Prussia will be President, and the Emperor of Russia will be a member, probably by proxy. This will insure a fair disposition of the affair.

THE PROPOSED CHANGE OF CANDIDATES.

The idea of a change of candidates by the Democrats has been entirely abandoned, and arguments are in progress for an active canvass with Seymour and Blair. It is now asserted that neither Johnson nor his Cabinet will offer any opposition to the election of General Grant.

The Episcopal Convention.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW YORK, October 22.—The Episcopal Convention re-assembled this morning. The Rev. Dr. White, of Tennessee, moved that the Committee on Prayer Books be instructed to prepare a series of lessons for daily prayers during the Lenten season. The motion was adopted.

The triennial report of the trustees of the General Theological Seminary was read. The report gave a cheerful account of the present condition and future prospects of the institution.

The Rev. Dr. Mahan, from the Committee on Canons, reported a resolution amendatory of Canon eleven, in reference to the Episcopal duty of clergymen. It was after some discussion made a special order to be taken up after the discussion on the subject of Christian Education.

The Rev. Dr. Haight, from the same Committee, submitted an amendment to Canon 12, which, he, said, was germain to the previous amendment. A delegate moved to postpone the order of the day and a division was called for. The motion prevailed by a vote of 120 to 24. A motion for an indefinite postponement was then made, and after a lengthy debate was carried by 123 to 78. The proposed amendment provides in effect that nothing in the Canon shall be understood to forbid a clergyman of the Episcopal Church from discharging all his duties as such in respect to members of his own parish who may be within the parochial limits of another minister, except the duties of preaching and reading of prayers in a public congregation. The result is regarded as a defeat by the friends of Rev. Mr. Tyng.

At the afternoon session, on motion of Rev. Dr. Adams, the "Hugh Davy Adams" Canon on marriage and divorce was referred to the Committee on Canons.

Rev. Dr. Mead presented a report from the Committee of Conference on the restoration of Church Unity. It provides for the appointment by the House of Bishops of a Commission from among their own number as an organ of communication with other branches of the Church. Adopted.

A message was received from the House of Bishops, approving the report on the Italian Reform movement, which recommends the encouragement and assistance thereto by the members of the Church, which was made the special order for Saturday.

Memorials were presented from six Dioceses, asking a true translation of the Nicene creed, in order to agree with the eighth article of religion.

Rev. Dr. Adams presented a canon and translation of the Nicene creed.

All referred to the Committee on Prayer Book.

The report of the Committee on Christian Education was debated.

All the resolutions were adopted unanimously, with an amendment to one naming members of the Joint Commission on Education on the part of the House, viz: Rev. Drs. Haight, Littlejohn and Potter, Rev. Mr. McVicar, Mr. Fisk, M. H. Throp, New York, and Mr. Garthwart, of New Jersey. After some discussion of the report of the Committee on Canon, relative to canon No. 11, and without action, the Convention adjourned.

RELIGIOUS RE-UNION.

A social re-union of the different evangelical societies of the Episcopal Church was held to-day. Eleven Bishops and four hundred clergymen were present.

Proclamation of Gov. Scott, of South Carolina—Illegal Voting in Philadelphia.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW YORK, October 22.—A Charleston special states that Gov. Scott issued a proclamation stating he received accounts of outrages in ten counties, showing that life and property are unsafe by reason of lawlessness, and that in those counties the laws of the State are defied, and calls upon magistrates and local authorities to see that the laws are equally enforced upon all classes. He proclaims it his duty to see the rights of every citizen, white or colored, protected, and if his efforts to peaceably accomplish this, continue to be frustrated, he will arm and organize a sufficient force of loyal citizens to overcome the resistance, and the responsibility of the consequences, however disastrous and deplorable, must rest upon the heads of those who provoke them.

WEST VIRGINIA ELECTION.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

WHEELING, W. Va., October 22.—The returns are very meagre and come in slowly. Wood county and Parkersburg City have gone Democratic; a Democratic gain of two hundred over the vote of 1866. The returns thus far received, show Democratic gains. Ohio county and Wheeling city are very close. The Republicans concede it has gone Democratic by one hundred majority. The Democrats claim two hundred majority. The returns from Center township show a Republican gain.

WHEELING, W. Va., October 22—Returns from fifteen towns show a largely increased vote. The gains thus far are in favor of the Democrats. The vote of this city is not yet fully counted. The vote is much greater than in 1858, two wards show a small Republican gain. The Republicans claim to have carried the State and elected all their Congressmen by a reduced majority, while the Democrats are equally sanguine of having gained sufficient to carry the State by at least 2,000 majority. THE EARTHQUAKE.

Total Casualties About Thirty-five Deaths—Hundreds of Buildings Injured.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

SAN FRANCISCO, October 22.—The earthquake is still the topic of conversation. A slight tremor or two were felt to-day. The total casualties worth mentioning do not exceed thirty. There were only five deaths, though death may yet result in one or two cases among the injured. A committee of the Board of Supervisors and Architects to-day had a survey of the City Hall, engine houses and other public buildings. The examination of the City Hall shows it to be badly cracked from the first floor upwards. The arches are mostly ruined. The Postoffice clerks have resumed their duties in the Custom House building. Had it not been for the anchors and ties put into the building after the earthquake in 1865, it is probable the greater portion would have fallen to the ground. The Merchants' Exchange, on Battery street, opposite the Custom House, occupied by the United States Courts, was considerably injured. A large fissure was made in the north wall. The building is on bad ground, and was severely shattered three years ago.

The new Merchants' Exchange, on California street, was slightly injured. The ornamental work of the Bank of California was thrown down. The chimneys and balustrade of the building are being removed. Although hundreds of buildings in the city are more or less damaged, thorough examination proves that those properly constructed will stand much heavier shocks than those of yesterday. The Occidental Cosmopolitan Hotel, brick, and the Russ House, the largest buildings in the city, are uninjured, except that the chimneys were thrown down and the plastering cracked slightly. The damage on West Montgomery street is large. The new buildings on Kearney street stood the shock, very few showing signs of any damage whatever. To-day's examination only confirms yesterday's report, that the greatest wreck of buildings and destruction of property was confined to the eastern and southern portion of the city, where the buildings are erected on new made ground.

Business is resumed as usual to-day.

GRAND DEMONSTRATION.

Torchlight Procession—Order of March—Decorations Along the Route.

The torchlight procession in this city last night in honor of the recent Republican victories in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Nebraska, was one of the grandest demonstrations of the campaign. The weather, although uncomfortably cool for spectators, thousands of whom thronged the streets along the route of procession, was fair and pleasant for those in the ranks. The turnout was fully as large as was anticipated, and general good order prevailed during the evening. The procession was fully three miles long, and was over one hour in passing a given point. The number in line was variously estimated at from five to seven thousand. All the brass and martial bands in the two cities and vicinity were engaged and enlivened the affair with soul-stirring music, while the numerous campaign Glee Clubs interspersed throughout the moving column sang exeellent and appropriate songs. The enthusiasm along the entire line of procession was most intense, yet all were orderly, both in the ranks and on the sidewalks, and, so far as we could learn, not a single fight or even a quarrel occurred during the evening, a fact we think which indicates that the peace and order the nation is in quest of and hopes to obtain by the election of General Grant to the Presidency, has been in part, if not wholly, secured by the great Republican triumph of the 13th inst.

The procession after forming moved over the published route in the following order:

The extensive route of procession, notwithstanding the high wind, which operated against the use of lanterns, &c., was exceedingly brilliant. Lights, flags and fireworks marked the entire line. Many of the features in illumination and decoration were novel and striking, and presented an exceedingly handsome appearance. The entire length of Penn street, from Marbury to Morris, was alight. Many of the residences and business houses presented a striking brilliancy. The fronts of numbers of elegant residences were hung with parti-colored lights and festooned handsomely with flags, while many of the trees in front of the houses bore brilliant fruit. Many parlors were splendidly illuminated, and groups of flags were displayed. On Liberty street the first place noticeable for its brilliancy of illumination was the Excelsior stables of Alex. Pitcairn & Co., opposite the Union Depot. From this point to Smithfield the illumination was general and handsome. On Smithfield street the spectacle was very handsome. The office of the Freheits Freund was profusely decorated and looked very fine. The establishment of the Weyman Brothers was exceedingly handsome. Fourth and Ross streets presented a very elegant appearance. The Jail and Court House were hung with lanterns and were very fine. Pennsylvania avenue was decorated quite extensively, as was also Wylie street. Fifth avenue was illuminated brilliantly, and was very finely decorated, residences, offices and business houses being hung with flags, lanterns and devices. The office of the old GAZETTE displayed a profusion of lights and flags and set off a liberal amount of red fire. Its decorations, we are proud to believe, equalled those of any other building on the route. The establishment of J. W. Pittock, Esq., corner of Smithfield street and Fifth avenue, presented a remarkably fine appearance, being hung all over with lanterns and flags. The display did Mr. P. great credit.

The offices of the Commercial and Chronicle were ornamented very gracefully with lanterns and flags, and the former displayed a very handome sign in gas, while our neighbors of the Dispatch displayed red fire and fire works in profusion. Altogether the illumination along the route last night would compare favorably with those of former occasions.

Mr. W. W. Peters, Fourth street, had his paint shop tastefully decorated with chinese lanterns, flags, and a large transparency, on one side was Grant knocking secession into pie, and Colfax giving him "another good ball, Pennsylvania good for 30,000." On the other side were "Seymour's friends." Comment is useles, as it was painted by that good Republican, Nick Garland. We understand they are all Republicans in this shop but one, and he says he will have to go for "Grant and Peace" on the 3d of November.

INCIDENTS.

Not a single accident occurred during the evening to mar the enjoyments of the occasion, and there were no incidents worthy of note outside of those mentioned elsewhere. After passing over the route as previously published, the column formed in line on Liberty street and was dismissed, after which the different ward, borough and township organizations, returned to their homes quietly and peaceably, without the slightest interruption from any source, and in an hour after the parade was dismissed, the streets were deserted and the city enjoyed its usual quiet.

A SERGEANT of the Fifty-ninth regiment of the line of the French troops now in Rome has deserted and formed a band of brigands on his own account. All his men are French deserters, and they ply their trade with a savoir faire that makes the native amateurs even blush.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

SILHOUETTES.

BY CHARLES LANMAN.

Clasped hands, and throbbing hearts, and cheeks aglow,
Beneath the starlight on soft summer nights,
And, mixed with tremulous signs and whispers low,
Most passionate kisses and all dear delights
That true love knows;
And in the pauses silence sweet as speech,
How sweet, how sacred, love alone can teach
Under the Rose.

Calm-fronted hours of golden autumn fruit,
Deep heavens of blue and slopes of waving grain;
In dusky groves the thrush's mellow flute,
The glad team loosed from the full loaded wain;
The lowing kine;
The laugh of children sporting on the green,
And, sitting robed and crowned, love's wedded queen,
Under the Vine.

A barren beach lashed by fierce winter rain,
And storm and cloud and tempest brooding low,
And bare, black rocks, where thwarted waves complain
To the sad skies, whose sullen flashes show
Fitful and few;
A broken heart above a lonely grave,
Round whose sere grasses moaning night-winds rave,
Under the Yew.

—The Ku-Klux have been trying on their nefarious schemes in Maine. The only way we can squelch out these rascals and their abettors all over the country, is by electing Grant by a majority so large that the K. K. K's. can see at once that loyal people appreciate the seriousness of the situation and are equal to it.

—The Philadelphia News says that three men, all Democrats, whose names were never reported in the newspapers were shot on election days in the First ward. All that this shows is a lack of enterprise on the part of the Democratic newspapers; but unfortunately the News can't find out the names yet, probably because they never existed.

—One of the royal generals in Spain recently condemned a child only five years old to be shot as the son of a rebel. The child, not understanding the situation, moved about, and by extraordinary luck was not touched. The general then coolly threw it an orange, and while stooping to pick it up a second volley stretched it dead.

—Base ball has not made half the sensation this year that it did last, and probably next year will have fallen still more into the back ground. The same can be said of croquet and cricket, and a new sensational out door game is needed to stir up the energies of small amateur athletics. The thing which killed cricket was base ball and base ball is being killed by the growing custom of employing professionals to do the hard work and play the matches. Satiety is the trouble with croquet.

Intercepted Telegrams.

(From the Sandusky Register.

One of the Register's reporters who nefariously tapped the grape-vine telegraph yesterday secured the following private telegrams, which we impolitely publish as an inside view of the situation since the election:

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.

To H. SEYMOUR, Utica: Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Nebraska have gone Republican. A. BELMONT, National Democratic Commitee.

UTICA, Oct. 14.

To GEORGE H. PENDLETON: As everybody seems to want Grant for President, what do you think of my withdrawing in his favor? Its terrible, and I've wept all night, but I see no better course. Do you-oo-oo-oo-boo-hoo? HORATIO SEYBOUR.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 14.

To H. SEYMOUR: Don't withdraw. Run now out of pure cussedness, and punish the people by keeping before their sight. If, on the 4th of November, you want proof that you have been a candidate, I will make oath to the fact.

GEORGE H. PENDLETON.

The Stampede of Honest Democrats.

James E. McFarland, Esq., of Meadville, Pa., a prominent Democrat, has come out for Grant. For twenty years he was the editor and proprietor of the Crawford Democrat, the leading organ of the Democratic party in this county. We believe he was one of the State electors on the Democratic side in the Presidential contest of 1856, and held the office of Postmaster at Meadville under two Democratic administrations. He has also held minor offices, in the gift of his party. We believe he was a supporter of Sharswood at the last fall election; but he writes to his son-in-law, Dr. Theodore J. Young, of this city, that if his life is spared, he shall vote for Grant in November. Mr. McFarland has exercised a large influence for many years among the Democracy of this county, in party councils and conventions, and his abandonment of Seymour and Blair will draw after him hundreds more in this part of the State.—Meadville Republican.

THE Evening Bulletin (Philadelphia) gives the following characteristic anecdote of the great Union Soldier:

At one of the Cabinet meetings, (while Grant was Secretary of War,) Mr. Johnson was indulging in some of his characteristic self-glorifications over the "sacrifices" which he had made for the country, and one or more of his Cabinet joined in the same strain of self-praise. General Grant said: "Well, gentlemen, so far as I am concerned, I have never made any sacrifices for the country. The country has always done more for me than I have done for it. I suppose I would be ready to make sacrifices, but I have never had the opportunity; and I think that, as a general rule, our public men get more from the country than they give to it."

HANS CHRISTIAN ANDERSEN, the celebrated Danish poet, says that he has never had an income of more than six hundred dollars a year. So limited is the sale of books in Denmark that even the most successful works pay but little profit to their authors.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, October 22, 1868.

MONEY AND GOLD.

Money very stringent until half-past two o'clock, with active demand at 7 per cent., coin interest, and one-sixteenth to one-eighth per cent. commission having been freely paid. After that time there was rather easier feeling, and loans were made at 7 per cent., currency. This change was due to the fact that the bear clique let about two and a half millions in loans and by purchases of stocks. It was the general fear at the close that money let out to-day may be called in to-morrow. 7 per cent. coin interest was bid for round lots on call to-morrow. Sterling firm at 9½@9¾ per cent. Gold opened at 135¾, fell to 135¼, and closed at 135⅝@135¼. The Assistant Treasuer awarded $300,000 at 135.55@671.

Pork Packing Prospects.

The pork packing season is now at hand, and one or two houses have partially commenced, the weather being quite favorable, but there is some difficulty experienced in agreeing upon prices, the views of packers and feeders being a good deal apart. The Kentucky hogs are now nearly ready for market, and a marked increase, both as regards number and weight, may be expected in the supply to come from that State. The corn crop in the blue grass region has been excellent, and stock hogs have been plenty. Some purchases have been made at $9.75 to $10 for the first half of November delivery, but these rates are evidently above the views of packers. Many feeders and dealers have been looking around here the past ten days, and are asking $8,25 to $8,50, gross, but the prevailing impression with packers is that these rates, net, are the utmost point that safety would indicate. But the very small supply of old meat on hand, together with fair prospects that England will buy largely, make feeders sanguine and quite confident that rates above those paid last season will be sustained. Then, on the other hand, the strong probability that gold will decline, and the well known fact that English dealers will not buy largely at high prices, notwithstanding the scarcity in that country make packers timid. It is pretty clear that the contest between curers and feeders regarding prices, will be somewhat protracted, and that, therefore, there will not be a large business done in November.—Cincinnati Price Current.

RIVER NEWS.

The weather continues dark and cloudy, with a slight spitting of snow at intervals. The prospects for a rise are by no means encouraging.

—An Evansville paper says: Capt. Vandergrift's Argosy is in the dry dock, and has been pretty well torn to pieces. When she comes out she will be nearly as good as ever. Cavender is going to do a splendid job on her.

—A passenger on the Champion, for St. Louis, was swindled out of $575, the other day by the confidence game. He cashed a check for $1,700, and afterward found that it was worthless. 'Twas the "old, old story told again."

—We clip the following from the same paper: The Charmer got a very nice trip out, including Mrs. Fuller, proprietress of "Zorastre," and her beautiful damsels. A number of the young beaux of the city followed them to the river, with a tear glistening in their eye, to take a solemn good bye.

—A late St. Louis exchauge says: Capt. Davidson has in hand a bid for a third hull, or steamer complete, from Vance of Madison, Ind.' where it probably will be built. The fact that the Northern Line Packet Co., and the White Collar Line Co. are having steamers built, with the probability that the Keokuk Packet Co. will also order two or three fast and elegant ones, foreshadows a lively trade and hearty, earnest competition next year, betwees St. Louis and St. Paul, and all intermediate points.

—A Louisville telegram to the Cincinnati Commercial says: Generl Weitzel's corps of engineers, taking advantage of the low water, are again prosecuting a survey of the falls in contemplation of building wing dams with sluice was to improve the channel depth in the canal and the Indiana chute. The only hope or feasible plan to overcome the difficulties of navigation and avoid the dangers of the bridge, is to widen the canal. Capt. Duncan's new boat, Mary Houston, was successfully launched from Howard's shipyard, at Jeffersonville, this afternoon, and brought over to the city wharf. The America passed up.

WRECK OF THE BUTLER.—We learned yesterday that the insurance companies of Cincinnati, have determined not to undertake the task of re-building the upper works of the Wm. Butler, burned at the Wharf on last Thursday morning. Proposals were invited for repairing the engines and re-building the upper works, but the lowest bid for the former job was $2,500, and for the latter, (exclusive of the painting and furnishing,) $6,000. The hull, engines, and boilers will shortly be sold by the companies. The boat was dropped yesterday afternoon to the lower end of the wharf, where she will remain for the present.—Wheeling Intelligencer.

LOUISVILLE, October 21.—River swelling, slowly, with three feet and seven inches of water in the canal. Weather is clear and cool.

DISEASED LUNGS.

There is no doubt whatever that diseases of the lungs, or ulcers of whatever sort, on any of the internal organs may be, and are frequently cured, and a complete condition of health established. If the elaborative functions, of which the stomach is the primary and most important one, are restored to a condition to do the repairing of the human system, ulcers or sores, whether upon the lungs, the liver, the kidneys or the bowels, or upon the legs, as is frequently the case, can be made to heal, and a complete standard of health re-established.

We have frequently een these results from the use of Dr. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE, a pleasant and agreeable medicine, which will ripen up and carry out of the animal economy all effete and used up material. Dr. K. says that he has known the most distressing and harassing coughs, whose vibrations would threaten to shake the whole constitution to pieces, removed in the course of a few days. In long standing cases of consumption, or of other sometimes fatal but always troublesome and annoying maladies, known as catarrh, chronic bronchitis, trachitis or pharyngitis, it is a wonderful alleviating medicine in the former and a sure cure in the latter disease.

DR. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE IS ENRICHED BY SOME OF THE MOST VALUABLE PLANTS AND HERBS KNOWN TO BE USEFUL AND CURATIVE IN ALL DETERIORATED STATES OF THE HUMAN BLOOD, and whilst it adds to its plasma, it at the same time stimulates, gently but effectively, the skin, the kidneys, the liver and the glandular system to sufficient action to enable the body to take on healthful action and eradicate the disease. The sick and afflicted should bear in mind the virtues of this great medicine, and if those who are sufficiently alive to the importance of health, will resort to it in the beginning of a cough or cold, there would be no falling into declines and rapid consumption, so hopelessly incurable and so most surely fatal.

HORATIO SEYMOUR is to speak in this city next Wednesday night. It is a piece of assurance on his part to enter a county to enlighten its citizens on political subjects that has just repudiated him and his party by a majority of ten thousand.

THE name of FRANK P. BLAIR, a citizen of St. Louis, has been struck from the list of registered voters in that city, on the ground of disloyalty to the Union. His friends declare, after the orthodox Democratic fashion, that they will establish his character for loyalty by assassinating the Board of Registrars.

THE GALLANT city of Allegheny rolled up a Republican majority of nearly three thousand at the October election. On the 3d of November, with a little effort, that city can go as much over three thousand as on the 13th of October she fell short of it. Let the effort be made, for it is to the last degree important that the majority in this State and throughout the Union shall be so decided, so overwhelming, as not only to defeat, but to annihilate the party of the rebellion.

A DISPATCH was sent by WALLACE to the Democrats of Western Pennsylvania, claiming a majority of thousands in Philadelphia, upon the strength of which, large amounts of money were wagered, and of course lost. The same bogus returns were also telegraphed to the Southern rebels, who, having no money to bet, adopted the congenial alternative, and ran up the rebel flag forthwith, saluting it with all the honors. This was done at Suffolk, Va., on the 14th and 15th. Mr. WALLACE'S friends there now find that their cause is doubly lost.

WEST VIRGINIA has gone Republican, electing WM. E. STEVENSON Governor, and the remainder of the State ticket. DUVAL, M'GREW and WITCHER, Republicans, have been elected to Congress. In 1866 the Republican majority was, for Governor, 6,644. The State was vigorously canvassed this campaign, and the Democrats reckoned with stout hope on securing a triumph. The returns are too meagre to base any calculation as to the majority, but it is sufficient to know that another victory has been achieved for GRANT and COLFAX.

MR. WALLACE, Chairman of the Democratic State Committee, went East yesterday, returning from Ohio. Current speculations differ as to the object of his late Western journey. Some say that he has been inspecting the papers in the case of the Democratic Congressmen DICKINSON elected in Ohio by naturalization frauds, having been called as counsel to give an opinion upon their sufficiency before the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania. Others insist that his business related to the settlement of the estate of CASEY, the Irishman who was murdered in his district last fall to punish him for exposing similar frauds. The general opinion, however, is, the Democratic Chairman has been in attendance upon a secret council of such politicians, convened in Ohio or Kentucky for the purpose of inaugurating some fresh assault upon the purity of the ballot-boxes. He has the credit of such a purpose in his recent sojourn in Western Pennsylvania. It is well to watch such men!

BE ASSESSED.

If the assessment of any friend of the Union, who wishes to vote for General GRANT, has been hitherto omitted, let him attend to it at once. The time expires at mid-night of to-morrow, the 24th. The time is now short, for perfecting this important preliminary to the suffrage. If you can hear of any voter whose assessment has not been made, you will render a valuable service to the common cause, by seeing that it be done to-day.

MR. SEYMOUR ON THE STUMP.

On Wednesday last Mr. HORATIO SEYMOUR, the Democratic candidate for President, laid aside the reserve in which, since his nomination, he has deemed it politic to entrench himself, and delivered an oration to a multitude of his partizans assembled in the city of Rochester.

Whether a candidate for any office in the gift of the people shall, or shall not, to use the popular nomenclature, "take the stump," must depend upon his own sense of propriety and the scope of his peculiar gifts and acquirements. In most of the Northern States it was formerly deemed unsuitable for candidates for Congress to participate actively in the canvass. Time has changed the conceptions of personal dignity in which this rule of abstention had its origin. In 1840 Mr. W. H. HARRISON, then the Whig candidate for President, set a memorable example of discussing before the people questions of national importance. On the anniversary of the battle of the River Raisen he addressed twenty thousand of his countrymen assembled on the field of that conflict. Afterwards, at Cleveland and other towns in Ohio, he made speeches, going fairly over most of the issues then under consideration. Mr. SEYMOUR, consequently, can neither assume credit for venturing upon an innovation, nor be charged with an indelicacy unbecoming the high position he occupies.

The Rochester speech in question has all the characteristics of its author. It is plausible, insinuating, superficial, dishonest and cowardly, and has no redeeming trait to rescue it from remorseless criticism.

Mr. SEYMOUR commenced his speech by detailing all the inconveniences, evils and wrongs which the war inflicted upon the country, and then proceeded to charge them over to the account, not of his co-partizans, the rebels, but to the party upon which fortunately devolved the responsibility of conducting the national administration. With a grim satisfaction, for instance, he referred to the fact that during the rebellion the commerce of the Republic was driven from the ocean, and laid the evil at the door of the Republicans. He certainly knows that Admiral SEMMES, with the connivance and aid of the British Government, had much to do with burning American merchantmen; and that he was recently one of the master spirits of the New York Convention, by which Mr. SEYMOUR was made the Democratic candidate for the highest office in the nation.

This was a base use of oratorical powers, which only a man totally regardless of historic verities would have ventured upon. But Mr. SEYMOUR did not stop here. After describing the means to which the government was forced to resort to crush the rebellion, he assumed a feeling of indignation, and demanded if his auditors were willing to continue in authority a party who did such things? He did not wait for a response, but declared it to be his firm conviction that they would unanimously respond, "No." Exactly so, Mr. SEYMOUR; and that was the only truth you put into your speech; and that got in not through your intention that it should have the force and effect of truth, but by reason of your purpose that it should answer the end of deception and falsehood. Of course, you and your "friends" were opposed to all the measures needful to put down the Rebellion; and are most unwilling the administration shall be continued in hands that will sternly resist and overbear the New Rebellion Mr. BLAIR and his backers mean to inaugurate.

Having gone so far, Mr. SEYMOUR paraded as so many virtues the technical dodges to which he had recourse to evade doing his duty as Governor of New York during the war, and to embarrass the national authorities. Lawyers, unless they have such largeness of mind as to rise above the pettinesses of their profession, never make statesmen, but are cramped and confined by the subtleties of the books. Mr. SEYMOUR is just enough of a lawyer to have all the faults of that calling, in respect to statesmanship, and none of its excellences. It may be charitable to infer that he is not so much to blame in the premises as that niggardliness of Nature that denied him the intellectual outfit requisite for the station into which, by a strange freak of fortune, he has been cast.

Mr. SEYMOUR and his set did not censure the rebels because they defied the Constitution and trampled upon it. They reserved all their wrath for the patriots who found in the Constitution authority for doing whatever was necessary to protect the life of the nation. So long as the war lasted Mr. SEYMOUR acted a part, never to be forgotten or forgiven by loyal men. While assaults were made upon the nation's life he stood by, urging legal subtleties about the limitations of the right of self-defence; encouraged the assailants by telling them that the men on the Union side were exceeding their prerogatives, and were liable to many forms of prosecution for what they were doing, and endeavored to frighten the friends of the Union into allowing the rebels to do as they pleased. A man acting in like manner, while an ordinary assault and battery was being committed, would be counted an accomplice, and would find it hard to avoid conviction and punishment as such. That was exactly the position Mr. SEYMOUR held towards the rebellion, and he has the infatuation to imagine he can win the Presidency now by ostentatiously parading the fact.

Mr. SEYMOUR denounces the Republicans as unworthy of farther confidence because they have not already restored the Union. We suspect that at bottom he is more displeased with the basis upon which Reconstruction is progressing than with any pretended failure in restoring the States to their former relations with the General Government. Seven States are in possession of all the rights as members of the Union which they ever enjoyed. The three that remain out, are out through their own folly and Democratic instigation. They will understand their situation by the middle of next month, and forsake the counsellors by whom they have been damaged.

In conclusion, Mr. SEYMOUR professes to deplore the fact that any political party has power to plunge this country into the horrors of civil war, and thinks his election will operate to check that liability. Who but Mr. SEYMOUR and the men with whom he has acted all through his political career, brought on the late Rebellion? Who but they are threatening to renew the contest? They held almost unbroken possession of the government for the long space of thirty years; put up and put down whom they would; made and unmade laws to suit their pleasure; instituted and discarded policies as they saw fit; and finally came to the conclusion that this ample authority belonged to them only, and by Divine Right. Hence, when they were beaten at the Presidential Election of 1860, and turned out of power, they felt deeply wronged, just as Queen Isabella of Spain now does, and having strength, which she has not, they made a gigantic war, hoping by violent means to reinstate themselves, and on a basis of avowed prescription, never to be shaken.

The country has again fallen upon a Presidential election. Mr. SEYMOUR'S "friends" have for weeks past been threatening a New Rebellion in case they shall not be restored to power. Mr BLAIR has gone so far as to prophecy the assassination of Mr. GRANT if the choice of the people shall fall on him. Other leaders of the Democracy have done more than prophecy; they have threatened to assassinate. The world has come to understand that assassination is a regular Democratic instrumentality. It has been used at Washington upon occupants of the Presidential Chair. It is now exercised remorsely all over the Southern States, not through individual malice, but by the procurement of the Democratic party. If Mr. SEYMOUR is animated by pacific intentions let him try his suasory powers on the men whom he expects to vote for him twelve days hence. If he shall inspire them with a love of order, peace and fraternity, he need indulge no fears as to the purposes of the other sort of people in the United States.

THE ALABAMA CLAIMS.

By agreement of the two governments, these claims against England are to be referred to the arbitrament of a commission, two of the parties to which are the King of Prussia, and the Russian Emperor. The details of this agreement from reference have not transpired, but the fact that such an agreement has been made, is established by dispatches from our Minister, Mr. JOHNSON, which have been received at Washington. This is an adjusment, finally, of a question which has been long discussed, although for the most part in a friendly temper on both sides. It was a question of vast importance, in many of its bearings, which might have imperilled the peace of the two countries, and which has actually involved the entire law of neutrality in the international code. The agreement to submit all matters in dispute to arbitrators is itself a settlement of all the disputes, and the adjudication upon details will follow in regular course, by virtue of the agreement already made.

The controversy has been mainly confined to two points: First, Was England remiss in the duty of declaring her neutrality, during the war of our rebellion, by timely and ample legislation? and, Second, Did she in good faith and with the requisite efficiency, enforce such legislation as she had, to that end? In the first of these points, that government has held its own sovereign rights to be involved, declining hitherto to permit any discussion thereon, while, upon the second, both governments have long since really agreed that the right of reclamation had been substantially established by the facts. It remains to be seen from the full text of the agreement, whether the English government now waives a position of which it has been so long and inflexibly tenacious.

DON'T LEAVE HOME!

The citizen who does not so shape his affairs that he can be surely at home on the day of the Presidential election, is careless of his duty and indifferent to the most vital interests of his country. Whatever else you do, make your presence at home and your vote on that day a matter of moral certainty. Leave nothing to chance; don't go away, hoping to return in time! Don't leave home at all, if you have the faintest doubt on this point. Make every other consideration yield to the importance of this, cases of imperative necessity being the only exceptions.

We want every Union vote, a full vote, a sure vote. This county can give twelve thousand majority for GRANT, without Democratic aid, by polling every Republican vote legally found within its borders. Let us do this, rejoicing in the knowledge that honest Democrats will come to us and pile on to that majority additional thousands.

FROM many quarters in Ohio come reports of the simultaneous discovery of the systematic frauds practiced by Democratic officials, to carry the election by the help of forged or fictitious naturalization papers. Not only the Probate Judge, DICKENSON, of Sandusky, is said to have engaged in this, but the same charge is made against the Probate Judge of Ottowa, another county in the same district. The latter is challenged to bring a suit for libel, if he thinks he can disprove the charge. In Logan county, Democratic votes were given on papers not even sealed, but evidently "obtained" from the office of some confiding SNOWDEN of that region. As to the DICKENSON frauds, the Cleveland Leader expresses an opinion that not less than three thousand of the bogus certificates have been issued. The Sandusky Register says that the evidence of the complicity of DICKENSON, the Congressman elect, is conclusive, and remarks that "he will never go to Washington and claim the seat."

And such seems to have been the Democratic game everywhere. Shall it be again played on the 3d of November?

KEEP UP THE MEETINGS.

The splendid vote of Allegheny county in October was due to a variety of causes. Of these, perhaps the most effective, apart from the merits of questions at issue, was the admirably organized system under which the local meetings, in townships and neighborhoods, were called by the citizens of every precinct, were supplied, through our Committes, with all the speakers required, and were made in all cases successful by the attendance of enthusiastic crowds. It is evident that these meetings accomplished a vast deal of good for the cause. Even if no converts were made, their effect to stimulate the zeal of all our friends was undeniably shown at the polls on the 13th.

Now, we want to see these meetings kept up. Let us have a continuous round of neighborhood gatherings in every precinct of Allegheny county. There should be one or more meetings, next week, in every ward, township and precinct in our limits. Remember, friends, it is the last round for the good old cause. Surely we need not grudge the time, nor the very trifling expense, while it would be productive of the highest satisfaction to all of us to once more come together, rejoicing over one victory gained, and reading in every bright eye the cheering assurance that another, still more glorious, awaits us. And, as for speakers, not only scores of them stand ready to answer calls, but, after the victories of the 13th, any good Republican can find himself an orator.

Keep up the meetings, friends!

BLAIR'S LATEST THREAT.

The infamous declaration, conceived and expressed in the spirit of one both rebel and assassin, alleged to have been made by FRANK BLAIR, in his St. Louis speech, that President GRANT "would never leave the White House alive," is repudiated by Democratic journals. We have no desire to do injustice to their candidate; it is not right or manly to hit a man when he is down as flat as BLAIR is, but justice itself requires us to state that we copied the objectionable words from the verbatim report in the St. Louis Democrat, which, in reference to the current Democratic denial of its accuracy, now says:

"We don't know what Blair means—Omniscience itself may not always be able to solve that well nigh insoluble problem—but what Blair says we can faithfully report. We know that he uttered exactly the words reported by us, and can bring more Democrats to testify to that fact than would suffice to convict any man of any crime, before an intelligent jury. That the Dispatch is anxious to throw a mantle over Blair's reckless stupidities, we can understand, but its editor does himself no credit when he undertakes to hide the truth."

This, be it remembered, is the reiterated and responsible declaration of a journal printed at St. Louis, where the speech was made, and we shall credit it until we see better proof to the contrary than we now have.

DEMOCRATIC ELECTION FRAUDS IN OHIO.

The way in which "Democratic gains" have been secured in the recent elections has been pretty much the same in all the States. One gets a very correct idea of the modus operandi, varied as it has been by that party to suit local circumstances, from the testimony given in the examination now in progress before the United States Court, at Cleveland, in the case of the IXth District, where a Democratic Probate Judge has accomplished his own election to Congress. An Irishman who had voted on one of the fraudulent papers being then on trial, his son testified to the whole story as follows:

Am the son of the accused; lived in Dover. I went to Elyria Oct. 7th, to hear Pendleton, and coming home stopped at Elliot & Spence's store and brought some flour. Next day I went for the flour and after getting it into the wagon Ed. Hyde came along and said:

"Pat, are you a voter?"

I said I was.

"Is your father a voter, Pat?" said Hyde.

"No," said I, "he is not."

"Well," said Hyde, "would'nt he like to vote if he had his papers?"

I told him he would, and he said:

"Are you sure your father would vote right if he got his papers?"

I said: "Well, I think he'd vote the Democratic ticket. I'm going to vote it anyway." Hyde then took out a pencil and paper, asked my father's full name, which I gave him, and he wrote something on the paper. He also asked how long father had been in this country, and how long in this State. Then he said:

"I don't know as I'll get the papers around for next Tuesday (the State election) but I'll have them in time for the Presidential election."

On Sunday, the 11th, I was at Rockport all day. Getting home at night, Horace Lamphear told me a man named Glasgoe had been there, and wanted me to go down to Hyde's and get my father's papers; they were there ready. Next night I went for the papers, stopping on the way at Glasgoe's, and he went with me. We found Hyde at home. After talking about the weather, but saying nothing of the paper, Hyde went into another room and then went out doors, calling Glasgoe and I with him. Then he read the paper to me by the light of a candle. He said the paper was all right. It had father's name in it. I can't read, but the paper was about my father's naturalization. I asked Hyde what were the damages, and he said, "Well, about seventy cents." I paid him a fifty cent scrip, a ten cent scrip, and ten pennies. Next morning I told father I wanted him to go to election. He said no, he didn't want anything to do with it. I told him he'd got to go, for here were his papers and I'd paid for them. My father did not see Hyde, nor any of them, and didn't go to get the papers. He saw no one but me. He don't know Hyde. Father went to election and voted. He told me he had voted, but I did not see him do it. The paper had no stamp on it when I got it. A man named Nat, Austin put the stamp on it, after we had got to the polling place on election day. He did this in a shed out by the town house, and I saw him use a pen on the stamp. [The stamp was cancelled with the letters "D. H., Oct. 8, 1868."] This was done a few minutes before my father voted. They all told me the papers were all right, but I told them they didn't look like my own papers I got in Cleveland. Told them my papers had a stamp on them. Then Austin put a stamp on them. Don't know that father ever made application to any one for papers. Don't think he ever took out his first papers; he told me he had not. He has been in this country ten or eleven years. He is about sixty years old. He never voted before.

Defendant was asked by the Court if he had ever declared his intention to become a citizen. He said: "No, indeed, I never bothered my head about them."

L. H. MCARDLE, clerk of the Sandusky county Probate Court, whose name was signed to the fraudulent certificate, was then put on the stand. He identified Haugh's certificate, as made by him, but did not know who it was delivered to. He testified further:

Don't know Hyde; don't think that I delivered Haugh's paper to him or to Hyde; delivered papers to Thomas Pollard, of Olmstead; don't know how many; Pollard came to Fremont about a week before the election, and I gave him a number of papers, he furnishing the names and filling them in; I saw none of the parties for whom the papers were made—administered no oath—got no compensation for them—made no record of the papers; I naturalized a good many from different parts of the State, but can't recollect a single name; I never saw Pollard but once, and then I gave him eight or ten papers, like the one Haugh has.

The Sandusky Register, noticing the suggestion that Judge Dickenson is probably innocent of fraud in issuing the bogus naturalization papers, and that his clerk is the guilty party, says:

"We believe Mr. Dickinson will not be able to make a scape-goat of his tool, McArdle. We believe the evidence of Dickinson's complicity in this gigantic fraud is conclusive and overwhelming. If Mr. Dickinson is innocent of this felony he can easily furnish proof of the fact, and we shall be the first to proclaim his innocence and exonerate him from all blame. Until this is done we shall continue to believe that E. F. Dickinson is the conscious author of the deliberate fraud which has been perpetrated in his name upon the voters of the Ninth District."

The power of Probate Courts in Ohio, to issue papers of naturalization, is disputed. Those Courts have neither seals nor clerks, both of which are made necessary by the act of Congress, which, in conferring the power to issue these papers, "provides that any Supreme, Superior, District or Circuit Court may have power to grant such papers under certain proof as to residence, etc., of the applicant." That statute also says:

Every Court of Record in any individual State, having common law jurisdiction, and a seal and clerk, or prothonotary, shall be considered a District Court within the meaning of this act.

THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD (main line,) made gross earnings, during the year ending June 30, 1868, in the sum of $4,206,040, and incurred expenses connected therewith in the sum of $2,684,757; leaving net gains, $1,561,283. Out of this, interest on the first mortgage, $631,680, and interest on the second mortgage, $451,200; leaving real surplus, $478,403.

WE LEARN from the Beaver Argus that the Republicans of Beaver county propose having a torchlight procession on the evening of the 27th inst. at New Brighton, which the uniformed clubs of this county are invited to join. We trust that our clubs will act at once upon the invitation and be present with full ranks. Beaver county deserves this at our hands.

HENRY A. WISE made a speech recently to the Hibernian Club of Richmond. He told them it was useless to expect the election of Seymour and Blair. It was a settled fact that Grant and Colfax would be elected, and that he did not know but what it would be better for the South that they should. It would be more likely to bring peace and a final settlement of our difficulties.

A SLIGHT COLD, COUGH,

Or SORE THROAT may be checked if a reliable remedy is applied at once, but if neglected very soon preys upon the lungs, and the result may prove fatal. The past few weeks of changeable temperature and cold rains are fruitful sources of troubles of the lungs, throat and chest. If you are attacked by a cold, no matter how slight, use at once

DR. SARGENT'S COUGH SYRUP,

Which is an old and well tried remedy for COUGHS, COLDS, ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, and all affections of the Pulmonary Organs.

DR SARGENT'S COUGH SYRUP

Is entirely free from any deleterious ingredient, and can be given with perfect safety to the youngest child.

DR. SARGENT'S COUGH SYRUP

Gives sure and almost immediate relief to hoarseness and that annoying sensation, tickling, in the throat. If you would obtain a reliable remedy, be sure and call for

DR. SARGENT'S COUGH SYRUP.

If your Druggist does not keep it, ask him to get it for you.

COUNSEL FOR THE CARELESS.

The body is a machine, and carelessness in its management is as sure to lead to evil results as carelessness in the management of a steam engine. Yet the last thing that most people think of is the protection of this delicate piece of the Creator's handiwork from the subtle causes of disease by which it is surrounded. It is no easy thing to repair the system when in ruins, but there is no difficulty in fortifying it against many of the dangers to which it is exposed. Guard against nervous debility. At the first symptom of this fore-runner of more serious ailments, sustain the flagging energies of nature with HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Take it regularly and persistently, until bodily vigor is thoroughly restored. It creates an appetite, promotes—or, it might as properly be said compels—the complete digestion of the food, regulates the secretive action of the liver, tones and invigorates the bowels, improves the condition of the blood, and gives firmness to the nerves. Upon a system thus strengthened and regulated in all its important functions, the fogs and exhalations of autumn, pregnant with the elements of intermittent fever, can make little or no impression. Whoever supposes that fever and ague is an unavoidable evil in certain districts, at this season of the year, is egregiously mistaken. As effectually as a draught of cold air is shut out by the closing of a door, this complaint, and all disorders of a miasmatic type, may be prevented by the use of the BITTERS. When sickness can be avoided by a means so safe and simple, is it not the merest folly to neglect the proffered antidote? Regarded either as a preventive or a cure for dyspepsia, biliousness, intermittent fever, nervous disorders, general debility, or constipation of the bowels, this pure vegetable preparation stands alone.

DISEASED LUNGS.

There is no doubt whatever that diseases of the lungs, or ulcers of whatever sort, on any of the internal organs may be and are frequently cured, and a complete condition of health established. If the elaborative functions, of which the stomach is the primary and most important one, are restored to a condition to do the repairing of the human system, ulcers or sores, whether upon the lungs, the liver, the kidneys or the bowels, or upon the legs, as is frequently the case, can be made to heal, and a complete standard of health re-established.

We have frequently seen these results from the use of Dr. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE, a pleasant and agreeable medicine, which will ripen up and carry out the animal economy all effete and used up material. Dr. KEYSER'S LUNG CURE is enriched by some of the most valuable plants and herbs known to be useful and curative in all deteriorated states of the human blood, and whilst it adds to its plasma, at the same time stimulates, gently but effectively, the skin, the kidneys, the liver and the glandular system to sufficient action to enable the body to take on healthful action and eradicate the disease. The sick and afflicted should bear in mind the virtues of this great medicine, and if those who are sufficiently alive to the importance of health will resort to it in the beginning of a cough or cold, there would be no falling into declines and rapid consumption so hopelessly incurable, and so mostly fatal. Let any one afflicted with any pulmonary disease try but one bottle, and they will be convinced of the value of Dr. Keyser's Lung Cure. Sold by the gross, dozen or single bottle at Dr. KEYSER'S Great Medicine Store, 140 Wood St. Dr. KEYSER'S SIDE OFFICE for LUNG EXAMINATIONS AND THE TREATMENT OF OBSTINATE CHRONIC DISEASES, 140 WOOD STREET, PITTSBURGH, PA. AN AUTOGRAPH LETTER FROM

GEORGE D. PRENTICE, Esq.,

Editor of the "Louisville Journal."

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 5th, 1866.

DR. LIGHTHILL—DEAR SIR: I am very sorry to learn that you contemplate leaving Louisville at the end of the present week. I earnestly wish that your engagement elsewhere might permit you to remain here for a longer time.

Your sojourn among us, Dr. Lighthill, will be long remembered by our people. It has been a blessing to many. You have treated me and a female member of my family with great success. You seem to me to understand, as by intuition, the character of a malady and its best remedy. You have a multitude of patients in this city, and I have not seen or heard of one to whom you held out the promise of relief without rendering it. Your entire practice among us has been a brilliant success, and I cheerfully recommend you to my friends and the public at large as a physician deserving the utmost confidence.

Hoping that you may live long to be a blessing to additional thousands of the afflicted, I am, very truly, yours. GEORGE D. PRENTICE.

TESTIMONIAL FROM THE

REV. JOHN NOTT, D. D.,

Professor in Union College, Schenectady.

SCHENECTADY, January 17th, 1866.

DR. LIGHTHILL—SIR: Having been cured by you of a discharge in an ear, which has been very offensive of late, and, far back as I can remember, always more or less so, and having been entirely restored to hearing since under your care, I feel that I cannot withhold this acknowledgment from any use it may be to others, especially as I have applied in vain to my family physician and other physicians of reputation. Yours truly, JOHN NOTT.

LETTER FROM

C. C. WAITE, Esq.,

Proprietor of the Sherman House, Chicago.

CHICAGO, November 6th, 1868.

DR. LIGHTHILL—DEAR SIR: I wish to express to you the appreciation of your skill as a practitioner, particularly in the relief afforded many afflicted with Catarrh; I, myself, having received permanent benefit from your treatment. Congratulating the afflicted in the West of an opportunity to avail themselves of your invaluable services, and wishing you much success, I am, yours very truly, C. C. WAITE.

LETTER FROM

CAPT. SILAS F. MILLER,

Proprietor of the Burnett House, Cincinnati.

BURNETT HOUSE, February 9th, 1867.

TO MY FRIENDS AND THE PUBLIC:

It affords me great satisfaction to be able to testify to the success of Dr. Lighthill in the treatment of deafness, and express my sense of obligation to him. My hearing has been impaired for a number of years, at times to such an extent as to embarrass me seriously. Dr. Lighthill, under whose care I placed myself, has removed the difficulty completely, and restored me to perfect hearing.

T&F SILAS F. MILLER.

This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of the Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Modes of Insurance, the means of insuring life, as presented to the public.

The rates of premium being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurer as those of the best Mutual Companies, and free of the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy-Holder.

Several new and attractive tables are now presented which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as INCREASING POLICY, INCREASING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former, the policy-holder not only secures a life insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the sum of his policy. The latter the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of the policy.

The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, October 22, 1868.

The money market opened very unsettled this morning, and it appeared as if there would be a general decline of railroad stocks and bonds; gold was firm—but it soon became evident that a large amount of the money locked up a few days ago was thrown on the market, and prices advanced rapidly on stock; governments did not respond to this condition of the market, and gold contrary to all expectations declining gradually to 135¼; and closed weak. The low rates of gold are more attributable to the expectation that the November Coupons are going to be anticipated, and the large short interest will be relieved. The amount of gold short or the transactions to covered from the November disbursements far exceed the total of interest to be paid out, and a sharp reaction will set in as soon as it becomes evident that the lowest point has been reached.

Bonds, no doubt, will advance rapidly immediately after the November election, but, in the meantime, there will be quick changes for better and for worse.

Stocks did not suffer so much from the raid of the bears; the average decline was about 4 per cent, and before the month is out, higher prices are predicted than reigned before, despite the high rate for call loans.

Business is exceedingly dull, and money very scarce.

—Among the railroads centering here, none appear to be doing better than the Allegheny Valley. The freight business of this road is much larger than the public generally are aware of, the shipments of oil alone being heavy, in addition to which, a large amount of coal, metal, clay, and many other articles are constantly passing over it. The receipts of crude oil by this road range from 3,000 to 4,000 barrels per day, while the shipments of refined run from 2,500 to 3,000 barrels. The transient business is also steadily improving, and the income from passengers is steadily increasing. Under the excellent administration of Col. Phillips, who is giving it his entire attention, the road is being worked successfully, satisfactorily and economically, and its importance to Pittsburgh, in placing us in direct communication with the oil regions, cannot be over-estimated. Furthermore, this road is owned by Pittsburgh, the money for its construction having been furnished by Pittsburgh capitalists, and its many friends will be glad to learn that it is in such a flourishing condition.

—There was a good attendance on 'Change to-day, and a moderately active set of markets, but on lower prices. The grain markets all opened over, without exception, and varied but little till past noon, though they were much less regular than usual, prices changing up and down like a boat riding in a heavy sea. Towards the close there was a universal weakness. The fact was developed that there was more grain on the market than was wanted. The large quantity of grain in store is beginning to tell heavily on holders, who find money growing tighter every day on them as the requirements of the packing season are being developed. The following shows the aggregate amount in store of wheat, corn, oats, rye and barley, not counting flour:

	Bushels.
In store, beginning last week	3,559,579
Receipts last week, add	2,060,491
Shipments do, substract	1,466,691
In store Sunday last	4,093,379

To this may be added 20,000 bushels more for the excess of receipts over shipments to this morning.

As holders are becoming more willing to part with their property, buyers are becoming more conservative in their views, for like reasons. Hence the prices come down, and there seems to be no immediate prospect of a general improvement, though a change may occur for the better in any one market. The downward tendency was shared by the provision market.—Chicago Tribune, 21st.

TORONTO, October 22.—The receipts of barley to-day were small, with no sales but held at $1,44.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, October 22, 1868.

The general markets continue dull, though there is, nevertheless, a fair volume of business in the aggregate. But, as we have repeatedly stated, the demand for almost everything is restricted mainly to supplying immediate wants, there being an almost entire absence of anything like a speculative feeling, while prices generally are unchanged.

APPLE BUTTER—Is unchanged; sales at 75 to 85c, as to quality.

APPLES—Under the influence of continued liberal receipts, the market is dull though prices are nominally unchanged at $2,50 to $3,50 for fair to prime, and $3,75 for choice.

CHESTNUTS—Steady but unchanged at $5,50 to $6 per bushel.

CRANBERRIES—Scarce and higher, prime Eastern cultivated may be quoted at $17 to $18 per bbl.

CIDER—Is selling all the way from $5 to $7 per bbl, according to quality and size of barrel.

CHEESE—Is quiet and unchanged at 17 to 20c for Hamburg, Factory and Goshen.

BUTTER—The market is well supplied; though prices are well maintained; we quote at 30 to 35c for packed and 37 to 40c for prime to choice Roll.

EGGS—Firmer, under the influence of light arrivals, and prices are higher; 25 cents was regarded as the regular price, though some dealers quoted at 27 to 28.

POTATOES—Peach Blows and Neshannocks, may be quoted at 85 to 90c per bushel. Sweets are quoted at $4,00 to $4,50 for Baltimores, and $5 to $5,25 for Jerseys.

HAY—Wagon Hay is still quoted at $28 to $38. Baled Hay, is selling at $28 to $30.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet and unchanged at 13½c for Shoulders; 16 to 18c for Ribbed and Clear Sides; and 20 for Sugar Cured Hams. Prime kettle rendred Lard, 20c. Mess Pork, $30,50 to $31.

LARD OIL—Sales in a regular way at $1,25 for No. 2, and $1,50 for No. 1.

GRAIN—There seems to be no price for Wheat, and the demand is very light; we quote nominally at $1,70 for No. 1 Spring, and $1,90 to $1,95 for No. 1 Winter. Oats firm but unchanged at 66 to 67 on track, and 69 to 70c, in store. Corn is dull, and we hear of offers to make concessions in order to effect sales; prime Shelled, $1,12 to $1,13, for car load lots. New Corn nominal at 85 to 90c. Rye is selling at $1,48 to $1,50—some holders are asking $1,55, but there are no buyers above $1,50. Barley is in steady demand at $2,25 to $2,30 for State Spring; $2,35 to $2,40 for do Fall, and $2,43 to $2,45 for Canada Barley.

ONIONS—Scarce and firm but unchanged at $5,50 to $6 per bbl.

SEEDS—Flax Seed is in steady demand at $2,50. Tmothy Seed is dull and nominal at $3 to $3,25. Cloverseed dull and nominal.

SALT—Dull and unchanged; Allegheny river brands $1,75 to the trade, and $1,90 to $2 for small lots.

WHISKY—is in steady demand but unchanged; sales at $1,29 for Rectified, and $1,30 for Highwines.

FLOUR—Continues dull and weak, and prices are barely maintained. Spring Wheat brands, $8 to $9, for fair to choice. The mills continue to quote Extra Family at $10,50 in bbls, and $10 in sacks; Double Extra at $10,80 in bbls, and $10,50 in sacks. Rye Flour, $8,50.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, October 22, 1868.

CRUDE.

The Crude market continues quiet and devoid of any new features worthy of special notice. When we say it is dull we do not mean that prices are lower, for such is not the case; but there is little or nothing doing, and so far as we learn, there is not much disposition manifested on either side to operate. The margin between here and Oil City is so small that dealers seem disposed to keep out the business; and besides those of our finers who are forced to buy, experience no difficulty in getting what little they want at quotations. There was but a single sale reported, 1,500 bbls (36 gravity) at 11¾, and we heard of other offers to sell at the same figure. For future months there does not seem to be much inquiry, and it is equally true that there are but few offers to sell.

REFINED.

There was considerable excitement in the Refined market late last evening, and this forenoon consequent, we suppose, upon the improved character of the advices from Antwerp, and during the time mentioned there were sales of some fourteen thousand barrels. Last evening the sales footed up seventy-five hundred barrels, all for October at 29; while to-day there were sales of some seven thousand barrels for the same delivery, at 29¼, also a line of 500 each, January to June at 29. Late in the day, however, there was a slight reaction, and the advance was partially lost, 29¾, being the best offer that could be obtained for October. There was an offer to buy November to March at 28½, and refusals asked at 29. All 1869, 500 each January to December, is nominally unchanged at 30@31.

THE PLAINS OF WESTERN KANSAS.

[Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

AT HOME, Oct. 21, 1868.

In my last I spoke of the eastern half of Kansas—that beautiful region of undulating prairies which is so rapidly filling up with an energetic and intelligent population both rural and urban. This portion extends westward about 200 to 230 miles west of the Missouri and the State line. There a belt of more hilly and broken country runs across from north to south, twenty to forty miles in width, made up of hills, bluffs, knolls and buttes, with rich intervening valleys. Some of these conical buttes rise several hundred feet above the surrounding country, and are crowned with rock, although their sides are grassy and smooth, and form pretty features in the landscape. Here are the rich salt springs and extensive gypsum beds of which I spoke more at length last year. No assignable limit can be set to the supply of these valuable productions. I saw one well constructed and pretty extensive establishment for making salt by solar evaporation. The soil of this more broken region seems to be very good, and what agricultural experiments have been made are quite successful. The strong grasses of the lower prairies are choking out the shorter and more delicate buffalo grass with which this region was, until recently, entirely covered.

The curious fact that the buffalo grass dies out, as the advance of settlement drives back the buffaloes, seems to be well established. But it is not correct to say that it dies out, for it does not; it is smothered out by the taller and coarser grasses. These last cannot bear the heavy trampling of those huge, multitudnious and restless animals; but the buffalo grass, which is perhaps one of the hardiest grasses in the world, as well as among the most beautiful and nutricious, seems not to be affected by it at all. It grows in tufts; the blades are exceedingly numerous, fine and elastic, and rarely rise more than three inches above the ground; the seed stem, which is very slender and wirey, seven or eight inches. This is the reason why the buffalo grass recedes with the buffaloes. I saw the process going on in the region of which I am speaking.

On the line of the Union Pacific Railway, E. D., this transitional belt crosses between the town of Salina and Forts Harker and Ellsworth. An ordinary observer would perceive little or no difference between it and the prairie region to the east of it; but there is a material difference.

Beyond Fort Harker we enter upon what is generally known as the Plains—different from the belt just spoken of and from the prairie region east of it. We seem to enter upon it at once, and the effect upon my mind was as pleasant as it was surprising. Hardly a tree was to be seen in any direction, although the eye ranged for miles and miles in every direction over a surface just a little undulating—not short swells and depressions, but long wavy rolls, sometimes miles across, and all covered with a rich carpet of buffalo grass, as green as if the season had been that of June instead of October. So smooth is the sod and so short and even the grass, that we might have stopped and played croquetany where. It looked like one illimitable, well-shorn lawn. I know not what the effect may be upon others, but never before did I feel such dilation of soul as during the first few hours that the swift-moving train carried us over this sublime, beautiful, fertile, grassy "desert." Very likely it might look different in the eyes of a weary pedestrian trudging by the side of an ox-train; but certainly we had the better opportunity to see and appreciate it. And then away out beyond Fort Hays, where we swept by a continuous herd of buffaloes extending forty miles along the track and to the utmost verge of the horizon, where they looked like black bugs in the distance, one long swell after another covered in places almost to blackness with them, the sublime language of inspiration—"Every beast of the forest is mine, and the cattle upon a thousand hills"—came into mind with a force never before felt. We saw hundreds of thousands, and yet the grass was abundant and good. Call that a desert which can feed to fatness such flocks as those!

We were on an excursion party; so we stopped when and where we pleased on the open plains. The gentlemen and ladies often scattered over the grass to gather what little curious and pretty flora remained, while I generally employed myself in investigating the nature and condition of the soil. This I could do easily, for the excavations made recently in the construction of the roadway showed me the depth of the almost black top soil and the nature of the subsoil. The depth of the top soil I found to be from from fifteen to twenty-five inches, with generally a still greater depth of good dark-colored subsoil. Neither had a large proportion of sand—less, indeed, than is much of the soil in the eastern part of the State. There may be sand hills in that country, but I saw none. We saw roads which had been very much travelled by wagon trains. The grass was worn off, but that was all. The truth is, that whole country is trodden as hard as a highway. For ages myriads of buffaloes have roamed over those plains; and it is only necessary to see their heavy, rolling, plunging gallop to understand how hard they would trample the soil. It is a peculiarity of all parts of Kansas that the frosts of winter do not heave up the soil, as with us; hence roads rarely become muddy or cut into ruts. The soil of those plains is the hardest and most compact I ever saw; yet where it has been thrown up out of excavations along the road it is as loose and friable as any one could desire for a garden, and the few weeds which have sprung up are rank and singularly strong.

The impression prevails that sufficient rain does not fall in that country to render it fit for the successful growth of cereals. I cannot say with certainty whether this is so or not. Certain it is that there are very few springs and streams of running water. There are many ponds which do not go dry, and there are many dry channels, some of them wide and deep, where copious streams of water flow in the rainy seasons. When I was flood-bound in Salina in June, 1867, and the valley of the Smoky Hill was a sheet of water from bluff to bluff for four or five days together, one would have supposed there was water enough on the plains for any purpose. But the trouble is, it will not stay there. The soil is so hard that it cannot get in, but runs off in a flood; and then, when the dry season comes, it is too dry. Very little is absorbed and held in the soil, or stored in deeper reservoirs for the supply of springs.

My impression is, after the most careful examination and consideration I could give to this interesting problem, that were these fertile and magnificent plains cultivated with common and subsoil plows, plenty of water to carry crops over the dry season would be absorbed and retained, and that the surplus would descend to greater depths and cause springs to burst forth in the desert where they have never been before; and that perennial streams would take the place of those dry and desolate water courses. If in this I am right, then no more beautiful region can be found on this continent, or any other, than that which on maps, still extant and still believed in, is called the "Great American Desert."

Bear in mind, however, that I have only spoken of what I saw, and that all I saw lay within the limits of Kansas. I was not quite to the western border, but very near it. That there are large tracts of country north and south and west of Kansas, to which my description will not apply, I fully believe. But in this country of which I have spoken there is hardly a stick of timber; and hence the railroad, the most powerful appliance of civilization and progress, must go ahead of the settler. The pine forests which skirt the slopes of the Rocky Mountains, and the coal which is stored there in exhaustless abundance must both be reached before anybody can make their homes on those plains. That magnificent road, over which we travelled smoothly and pleasantly for more than four hundred miles, is now within a little more than a hundred miles of those forests and coal mines; but there it rests until it shall please Congress to bid it go on. C.

Petroleum in Europe.

Recent advices from abroad communicate the information that springs of mineral oil have been discovered in the western province of Galicia, and that extensive preparations have been made for the purpose of reaching the subterranean reservoirs. The surface soil, covering an area of 50,000 acres, it is asserted, is so thoroughly impregnated with petroleum that it is only necessary to dig a few feet in order to obtain a handsome return for the money expended. The development of this new branch of industry has created a demand for the services of American engineers familiar with the methods of sinking wells in the United States, and the reports of the gentlemen from this country, who have visited Galicia, are said to coincide with the sanguine anticipations of the owners of the oil fields.

The accounts of this region concur in asserting that the small stream known as the Dunagee, will, in a short time, be surrounded with works as extensive as those now in operation at Oil creek, Pennsylvania. Less enthusiastic observers, however, cite numerous instances of discoveries abroad of oil, which have by no means fulfilled the prognostications of the operators. While the United States possesses facilities for raising two and a half millions of barrels of oil every year, and actually sends abroad 800,000 barrels, or 32,000,000 gallons, there is not much prospect that these new sources of supply will interfere with her position as the great petroleum market of the civilized world.

Progress of the Campaign Abroad.

Some new and unexpected features are developing in the Parliamentary canvass now in progress in Great Britain. One is the appearance of a number of young men of aristocratic birth and position as candidates for Parliament, in the interest of the extreme liberal sentiment. A son of Lord Middleton and a brother of Lord Caernaryon, both from old Troy families, are carrying on a vigorous campaign against Toryism. They are, like most of the Oxford graduates of the present day, disciples of Mill and the school of liberal thinkers whose influence is paramount at that University. The new voters to whom the elective franchise has been extended after so many years of earnest struggle, do not always appear to appreciate their new-born privileges. They are indifferent to measures and men, and are apparently very well satisfied to see themselves represented by money bags in Parliament. Some of the "able editors" of the heavy reviews are disposed to draw gloomy reflections from this state of affairs. The Fortnightly Review says that the election of 1868 "promises to be the most corrupt and dishonorable in our annals, and to give us for rulers some of the richest and stupidest men that ever entered the chamber." "Manhood suffrage" is a new thing in England, and the Britishers must live and learn.

The Capital of India.

In connection with the alarm of the English about the Russian conquests on the frontier of India, the newspapers are discussing the propriety of removing the seat of government of India from Calcutta to some point in the interior. Simla has been proposed. From its central position it is urged that the politics of the frontier can be more directly and efficiently controlled, and it possesses the further advantages of being protected by the largest body of troops which can be assembled in any part of India, and of being situated in "immediate proximity to the finest and best affected nation in the country." Calcutta is thought to be unhealthy, and its looation, near the coast, inconveniently remote from the theatre of the future conflict between Russia and Great Britain. The agitation of this subject shows that the old Indian officers are fully alive to the peril which menaces their tranquility from the great northern steppes of Asia.

Daily Prayer Meeting—From 12 M. to 12:30 o'clock at the Rooms of the Christian Association, No. 23 Fifth street.

Nuisance.—Henry Kropp made information yesterday before Alderman M'Masters against C. Harshold for nuisance. A warrant was issued.

Repaving.—Workmen are engaged in pulling up the old pavement on Second avenue, between Smithfield and Wood streets, preparatory to laying the "Nicolson."

Judge Ludlow, of Philadelphia, was right when he rebuked the editor of the Evening Mail in open Court, and said that he "was not a fit man to have the control of types."

Lost.—The discharge papers of George W. Kelly, of the 101st Regiment Pa. Vols., were lost in this city on Wednesday evening last. The finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving them at the Republic office, Third street.

Boy Run Over and Killed. — Charles Thomas, a small boy, residing in Mifflin township, was run over by a wagon on Tuesday evening, receiving injuries from which he died. The wagon was being driven rapidly along the road, but the accident, it is said, was unavoidable.

The process of converting the green and round heads of cabbage into sauer kraut is being rapidly accomplished by many of our citizens.—Evening Mail.

We advise the editor of that journal to keep in doors and there will be no danger of his falling a victim to the process.

Reckless Driving.—Thomas O'Neill, a livery stable keeper, made information yesterday before Alderman M'Masters, against C. A. Taylor for misdemeanor and reckless driving. O'Neill alleges that Taylor hired a horse and buggy from him, and drove so recklessly as to injure the turnout to the amount of forty-six dollars. A warrant was issued.

Choice Game.—Prairie chickens, woodcock, snipe and quails, received this day at the popular first-class Telegraph Eating Saloon, No. 101 Third avenue. Epicures will do well to call and make their purchases. Game always first in season at the Telegraph Eating Rooms. Orders by mail promptly filled.

Handsome Donation—Judge Lowrie made a handsome donation to the Allegheny Library yesterday of over two hundred bound volumes of reviews and magazines, and complete sets of some of our leading magazines published during the last seven years. The donor could have exercised his liberality toward no more worthy institution, and he has the thanks, not only of its officers, but all those who are interested in its success and who partake of its benefits.

The Pacific and Atlantic Telegraph Company of the United States has opened an office at Memphis, Tennessee. In accordance with the established policy of this company the tolls on telegraphic business for Memphis have been materially reduced. The attention of our business men is called to this fact. They will no doubt appreciate the advantages arising from the sustaining of a healthy and energetic opposition telegraph company and extend to them a liberal share of their patronage.

Serious Accident.—A serious accident occurred, last evening, in Allegheny, by which Mr. Barney Keenan, a peddlar who boards at the Eagle Hotel, on Liberty street, was seriously injured. He had been out riding in a buggy and when returning and while turning the corner of Ohio and Sandusky streets, his horse took fright and ran away, turning over the buggy and throwing Mr. Keenan out on a pile of paving stones, His injuries, although severe and painful, are not thought to be of a dangerous character.

Proposed Passenger Railway Extension.—There is some talk of extending the Pleasant Valley Passenger Railway, from its present terminus at City Hall, Allegheny, to the Custom House, Pittsburgh. The proposed route, runs along Ohio to Sandusky streets, down Sandusky to Lacock, along Lacock to Anderson, down Anderson and across the Hand street bridge, up Hand street to Liberty, along Liberty to Seventh avenue, up Seventh avenue to Smithfield street to the Custom House. The matter has not assumed any definite shape as yet, but will likely be put forward immediately.

Weather Prognostications.

"G. A." says: "The indications from October 16th to November 15th, although not very clear, appear to be as follows: Eighteen cloudy and variable days; thirteen several days of rain, and eleven sunshine or clear days. The thermometer will probably range from forty-five to fifty-five degrees. Assuming from the indications of the past four days, the weather will be raw, but not sharp, natural fall weather may be expected. The rain storms may not discharge freely in consequence, thus leading to the opinion that a continued high river may not be expected before the November moon."

Lost Boy.

Wednesday evening as the mail train on the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad was passing Woods' run, going East, a boy fell from a car to the ground, along side the track. When picked up, it was found that he had sustained no injuries further than a slight bruise on the leg. A kind hearted lady in the vicinity took care of him until yesterday morning, when he was taken to the Mayor's office. He is about fourteen years of age, and seems simple minded. His conversation is rather incoherent, which makes it rather difficult to obtain any information concerning himself or his friends. He gives his name as Sam. Eicher, and says that he lived with a man named Ellis, at New Lisbon, Ohio, and that he came to Pittsburgh to see his "Aunt Kate," but of her whereabouts he seemed to have no idea. He will be kept in charge by the Mayor until his friends can be heard from.

Allegheny Councils.

A regular meeting of the Allegheny Councils was held last evening.

SELECT COUNCIL.

Members Present—Messrs. Black, Brown, English, Gwinner, Hall, Hartman, Jahn, Krebs, Motheral, Myler, J. C. Patterson, A. Patterson, Phillips, Riddle, Reiter, A. D. Smith, Wm. Smith, Wettach, and President McBrier.

The reading of the minutes was dispensed with.

The Chairman read a contract between the city and the P. Ft. W. & C. R. R. Co., relative to the construction of the Sedgwick street sewer.

Mr. Myler submitted a resolution authorizing the signing of the same.

Before any action had been taken the Clerk of Common Councils was announced, and informed Select Council that Common Council not having a quorum, had adjourned.

Mr. Myler then asked leave to withdraw his resolution which was granted.

On motion Councils adjourned.

GRAND JURY PRESENTMENT.

The Grand Jury, having concluded the labors for the present session, made the following presentment, which was submitted to the Court yesterday:

To the Honorable, the Court of Quarter Sessions, &c.

The Grand Jury, to whom the honorable Court imparted certain matters pertaining to the well-being of the citizens, make the following presentment as the views entertained by the Grand Inquest. They have acted on about six hundred bills, a large number of which they felt it their duty to ignore. Amongst the latter were many cases of a frivolous character, growing out of family squabbles and spiteful cross suits, which do not warrant the intervention of the laws. These cases should never be brought forward to consume the time of either Court or Grand Jury, and would not if the duty of the committing magistrate was intelligently and honestly discharged. Many cases of hardship occur to honest and often poor prosecutors, who, through the incompetency or cupidity of the magistrate are sent before the Grand Jury, there to be dismissed, with costs of suit, to institute what was plainly their proper remedy —a civil action.

We deem this evil of sufficient magnitude to be brought to public attention. If no legislation is practicable, such as inflicting a forfeiture of costs upon the magistrate entertaining these manifestly improper cases, it becomes highly important that the people insist on a higher range of qualification, and integrity on the part of these public functionaries.

POLICE COURT.

We would respectfully suggest to the law-making power, the establishment of a Police Court, to hear and determine such cases; we are clearly of the opinion, it is of the utmost importance, that such a Court should be promptly established by law, for the summary trial and disposition of the innumerable petty cases which constantly arise in a great community like ours. Such a tribunal was contemplated by the recent act of consolidation, and it is a matter of great regret that it has not long since been organized.

There are four terms of the Criminal Court of the county each year, averaging nearly five hundred cases a term, or a frightful aggregate of two thousand cases per annum; fully fifty per centum of these are cases of assault and battery, surety of the peace, disertion, or liquor cases, with trifling larcenies.

The expensive and cumbersome machinery of this high constitutional Court, was never designed for such labors. Thousands of dollars could be saved annually to the taxables of the county, now thrown away, in paying the board of prisoners awaiting for weeks and sometimes months, the session of the Grand Jury, trial by the Traverse Jury, and in the fees and costs paid to the officials concerned in their prosecution.

The Police Court, and the Work-house as in other great cities will speedily relieve the County Treasury of a vast and increasing source of expense, and the prosecuting officers, and the Court from duties at once onorous and ikthsome.

We would respectfully suggest the propriety of providing for females attending our Courts, a special room, suitable for their comfort. Under present arrangements women are compelled to sit, or stand around crowded Court rooms, or halls without even ordinary conveniences.

THE WORK-HOUSE.

As directed by the Court we made a visit to the Work-house, now in course of erection, so far as it has progressed, we consider it a success, and when completed, will be a relief to the tax payers, and beneficial to those who may be sent there. The system of congregated labor here to be introduced, with humane treatment of prisoners, will no doubt work out a reformation sadly needed in our County. We trust the gentleman charged with this erection, will push it to completion at an early day.

The County Jail was visited as usual, and was found in excellent order so far as cleanliness is concerned. Its over-crowded condition, however, is a matter of regret, two to four prisoners being found in each cell. Any important change from this state of affairs may not be expected under existing circumstances until relieved by the removal of its inmates to the new Workhouse.

THE WEST PENNSYLVANIA HOSPITAL, AT DIXMONT.

We were agreeably pleased in looking over this institution for the use of the insane. It is in excellent order. The poor inmates are well cared for; nothing could be better arranged for those deprived of reason, and there is no class of people more entitled to the kind consideration of the humane than those confined in the Dixmont Asylum. Money expended in their protection is well bestowed. Whatever can be done to restore them will be a ministration of God's mercy. The good of society demands their protection, and under the treatment of Drs. Reed and Grayson, we consider them in proper hands.

HOUSE OF REFUGE.

In this establishment for young offenders, the inmates are all well cared for. The boys and girls are kept at useful employment, educated by competent Instructors, their morals attended to under the direction of the Rev. Mr. Avery. We were much gratified to find these erring wanderers in such comfortable quarters, out of harms way, who, if left to themselves, would, in all probability, fill a fellon's cell. We commend the Refuge and all such institutions to the patronage of the legislature.

WESTERN PENITENTIARY.

On the invitation of the Board of Inspectors we visited that institution, although it is not immediately under our jurisdiction. We were interested in looking into the peculiar workings of the Pennsylvania system of imprisonment. All the parts of the building exposed to our view were suggestive of cleanliness and order.

The prisoners we did not see. Each man works in his seperate cell. From the day of his entrance into, until the day of his departure from the prison walls he is alone. Literally exiled from the world, and shut out from the sympathy of a human face, other than his keeper; he works out in fearful silence the long years of his imprisonment, in some instances reaching over a quarter of a century.

This is the system adopted by the State of Pennsylvania more than forty years ago, for the punishment of her criminals and continued without change; while most of the civilized world besides, we believe, has abandoned it for what is known as the more humane and liberal system of "congregated labor," or what is still better, the Irish plan of grades and promotions. If we could reach the law-making power of our State, we would enter our protest against this barbarous feature in our penal code, and ask for its modification.

COUNTY HOME.

This home for the destitute, provided by the liberality of the tax-payers, is, in all respects a proper place for the poor. The inmates, averaging about two hundred in number, are well cared for, those who are able, kept at useful labor. The farm is in good order, producing most of the supplies necessary for the establishment, and being evidently managed by the Board of Directors with commendable economy and fidelity. The health of the inmates is good, and they appear cheerful and contented with the provision made by the county for their comfort.

ST. PAUL'S ORPHAN ASYLUM.

By invitation of the Board of Managers, we visited this institution, although not coming within the range of our official duties. Here we found a large and elegant building erected at the cost of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, where over two hundred orphan boys and girls find the comforts of a home. Provided not only with food and clothing and moral instruction, they are taught useful employment, and thus trained up to become worthy members of society. From this we are led to say a word in behalf of all institutions whose object is the care of orphans and destitute children; not only as they fulfill a holy and imperative duty to these little unfortunates, but as a thoroughly efficient agency in preventing an increased amount of vice and crime in the community. Many of these children if not thus provided for would be educated on the street to ways of idleness and vice, soon to become vagrants and criminals, requiring the time of courts and juries to prosecute and punish. The low motive of economy, alone, points out clearly our duty in the premises; while the higher claims of Christian charity call upon us to look to these little ones deprived of the care of earthly parents. We, therefore, commend, most earnestly, all such institutions to the charitable consideration of the people.

We take this occasion to return our thanks to the officers and managers of the various public institutions we have visited, for the courteous and hospitable manner we have been treated while endeavoring to discharge our official duties.

PUBLIC ROADS.

We wish to call the attention of the proper authorities to the condition of the highways of the county, especially those incorporated as plank road and turnpike companies. It is notorious that several of the public roads leading into Pittsburgh and Allegheny are frequently in an almost impassable condition. In justice to the people, we think some steps should be taken to remedy this imposition.

ASSISTANT DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

In closing the business of our session we owe our meed of praise for the able manner in which John W. Riddell, Esq., the efficient Assistant District Attorney performed the arduous duties pertaining to his office. This gentleman is well entitled to our thanks for expediting the business brought to our notice. With this term, his functions cease. The people of the county will be deprived of the services of a most competent officer, and to say that he has discharged with fidelity, promptitude and rare ability, the duty of Assistant District Attorney, is but doing this gentleman simple justice. We wish him in his profession that good fortune which attends the energetic, the honest and capable advocate. We would also remark, in justice to the clerk who assisted in preparing the bills, Mr. Eugene Snowden, his accuracy and perspicuity in the discharge of his duties meets our entire approbation.

We would call the attention of the proper authorities to the filthy condition of the water closets of this Court House, in the hope that a speedy remedy may be applied.

We desire to say that the people of the county owe a debt of gratitude to the managers of our public institutions, who davote much if not all of their time in the interest of the public. It is generally understood that person who serve the public expect to be well paid; but here are a number of gentlemen of the highest order of talent engaged in the service of the county without fee or pecuniary reward. It, therefore, affords us pleasure to bear this testimony to their usefulness and self-denial. All of which is respectfully submitted by the undersigned.

The United Presbyterian Synod of Ohio.

The Synod met in Wellsville, Ohio, October 20th, at two o'clock P. M. The opening sermon was preached by the retiring Moderator, Rev. J. T. McClure, from Jeremiah 3, 15. The sermon was an able and well digested discussion of an important subject. Rev. Wm. G. Waddle was elected Moderator for the ensuing year. Standing Committees were appointed. Reports of the different Boards of the Church and Presbyteries were read and referred to the appropriate committees.

In the evening, Rev. T. J. Kennedy preached an excellent sermon on "The Power of the Truth," from Luke 4, 32: "For his word was with power," which was highly appreciated by a large and attentive audience.

The Synod held twe conferences on Wednesday on the Missions of the Church, foreign, domestic and freedmen's, during which great interest was manifested in these important fields of labor, and a determination to do their part in raising funds to relieve present embarrassments.

The interests of the Theological Seminary in Allegheny City received a large share of attention.

The Charter and Constitution prepared for the consideration of the three Synods having the care of the Seminary, were unanimously adopted, and nine members of the Board of Directors were chosen. The Synod also resolved to raise forthwith their quota of the sum necessary to liquidate the debt resting upon the Seminary.

Rev. H. Hervey, D.D., from the O. S. Presbyterian Synod of Ohio, addressed the Synod, and was responded to by the Moderator. Both addresses were received in a pleasant and fraternal spirit.

Synod adjourned to meet in Cadiz, Ohio, on the third Tuesday of October, 1869, at 7 P. M.

On Wednesday evening a conference was held on the subject of Sabbath Schools, and the best methods of conducting them. Much general interest and profit for the right management of these agencies was elicited during the discussion.

Probably Fatal Accident.

A serious accident occurred on Wednesday afternoon to Mr. Gregor Hite, of the the firm of Steen & Co., at their coal works in Lower St. Clair township. It seems that he was engaged in dumping the coal from one of the cars on the tipple when the bolt holding the platform upon which the car rested gave way, the weight of the coal forced the end of the platform up and hurled Mr. Hite with great violence to the road below, a distance of nearly sixty feet. The platform was also thrown to the road, falling upon Mr. Hite, crushing him in a terrible manner and so completely wedging him in as to require five men in his extrication. He was taken into a store near by and afterwards conveyed to his residence on Mount Oliver, where he received medical attention. His injuries are of a very serious character, and it is feared that they may prove fatal.

Court of Quarter Sessions.

Court met at usual hour, Judge Mellon on the bench.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

The first case taken up was the Commonwealth vs. Emma Atchison, indicted for assault and battery; Matilda Day prosecutrix. The prosecutrix, a little girl, was placed upon the stand, and testified that the defendant had at different times, abused her by striking and whipping her. The Court thought the Alderman should have disposed of the case and not have sent it to Court. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty, and directed that the costs be divided equally between the prosecutrix and the defendant.

SELLING LIQUOR ON SUNDAY.

The case of Commonwealth vs. John McRoberts, indicted for selling liquor on Sunday, Thomas Smith, prosecutor. The defendant keeps the Washington Park House, on Troy Hill, and it was alleged by the prosecution that the defendant sold liquor on Sunday, the 28th day of June.

Officer Blondon having been subpœnaed on the part of the prosecution, and failing to appear when called, a detachment was issued upon which he was arrested and brought into Court, when a fine of ten dollars was imposed upon him for contempt of Court.

The jury after a short absence returned a verdict of guilty.

MOTION TO QUASH AN INDICTMENT.

R. S. Morrison, Esq., counsel for Charles Murphy, indicted for a felonious assault and battery, George Evans prosecutor, moved to quash the indictment, on the ground that the accused had been committed to jail without having been granted a hearing. The motion was overruled and Mr. Morrison gave notice that he would bring the matter up in arrest of judgment if the accused was convicted.

FALSE PRETENCES,

The case of the Commonwealth vs. Lawrence Purcel, indicted for obtaining goods under false pretences, James Rogers, prosecutor was next taken up. It is alleged by the prosecution that the accused obtained three barrels of whisky of the prosecutor, valued at $419 12, on a credit of six months, by representing that he had money and property to the value of four thousand dollars, and that he, the defendant, had since refused to pay the bill and had attempted to leave the State and remove his property therefrom for the purpose of defrauding his creditors. The jury returned a verdict of guilty.

NUISANCE.

Marks Lang, indicted for maintaing a nuisance, Deitrich Farmholtz, prosecutor, was placed upon trial. It was alleged by the prosecution that the defendant kept a chicken coop on a lot adjoining the prosecutor's house, which was a nuisance to the whole neighborhood. Mrs. Farmholtz, the prosecutor's wife, was put upon the stand, and testified that the defendant kept a chicken coop on the premises referred to, and also said that they could not sleep in the front part of the house. When asked why they could not sleep in the house, she replied that the bed bugs were so numerous that they could not sleep in the house but slept on the porch. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty, and directed that the prosecutor pay the costs.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

The next case taken up was that of the Commonwealth vs. Frank Metz, indicted for assault and battery, John Dollman, prosecutor. The prosecutor and defendant were conducting a brewery in Pitt township in partnership, and the prosecutor alleges that about the 27th of September he returned home with the wagon in the evening, when he was attacked by the defendant, who knocked him down and beat him. The jury found a verdict of guilty.

Street Crossings.

The of city Allegheny is quite in advance of Pittsburgh in the important matter of street crossings. A party of pavers have been engaged all summer in laying down crossings at the intersection of her streets. It is greatly to be regretted that these new crossings have not been made, especially on the more crowded thoroughfares, double their present width. It is hoped when Pittsburgh undertakes to remedy the wretched state of her crossings, she will recognize the necessity of making them at least half as wide as the sidewalks of which they form the connecting links. If it was necessary to make Fifth avenue sidewalks fourteen feet wide, there can be no excuse for making the connecting cross-walks less than seven or eight feet wide. The inconsistency of these desparities of widths of sidewalks and crossings has been apprehended and remedied in all the chief thoroughfares of our eastern cities. Why should Pittsburgh and Allegheny remain longer in their old ruts? Why not in every future contract for paving have a specification that the crossways shall be half or two thirds as wide as the sidewalks?

Will the City Fathers consider this matter?

Auction Sales This Day.—Silver plated goods, show cases, blankets, quilts and fancy goods, at two and half past seven o'clock P. M., at Palmer & Phillips' Opera House Auction Rooms, No. 60 Fifth avenue.

Conflagration at McKeesport—Fulton, Bollman & Co's. Rope Works Partially Destroyed.

On Wednesday evening McKeesport was the scene of a conflagration which resulted in the destruction of the main portion of the extensive rope work of Messrs. Fulton, Bollman and Co. The works consisted of a three story brick building, in which the machinery was placed, a walk one thousand six hundred feet long, and a warehouse located at the rear of the walk. About half-past six o'clock the fire was discovered in the main building, and the tolling of the church and school bells, and the blowing of steam whistles, brought the citizens of the borough en masse to the scene. In the absence of engines, however, they were unable to do anything toward the saving of the building. The flames spread with lightning rapidity, and in a few minutes it was a sheet of flames. When it became evident that the main building would be destroyed, efforts were directed toward the saving of the walk and rear warehouse. A portion of the walk adjoining the burning edifice was torn down, and the spread of the flames thus prevented.

The building, which was burned, contained all the valuable machinery used in the work was totally destroyed. The loss on raw material will be small, as there was only sufficient for one day's consumption in the building at the time of the fire. The total loss has not yet been estimated, but it is fully covered by insurance.

The cause of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed to have originated from the bursting of a lamp in the lower room of the main building. When the machinery was stopped to let the men go to supper a lamp was tied to the main shaft, and when it was started again after supper, the lamp had not been removed and was whirled round and broken. Some of the burning oil, it is supposed, fell into a pile of tow, or oakum, and communicating from that to other inflammable materials. The destroyed building was thought to be, from the outside at least, fire-proof, besides which a large water tank had been erected on the roof, with hose running to different parts of the works, but the rapidity with which the flames spread rendered the facilities unavailable in preventing the conflagration.

MORTGAGES.

Same day ten mortgages were filed.

The Weed Sewing Machine.

It gives us a great deal of pleasure to add voluntarily to the universal opinion of the community, our testimony concerning the superior excellence of the "Weed" Sewing Machines for family uses. The Weed is one of the latest constructed, and its elegant proportions and matchless mechanism are a credit to the designers and the admiration of every one. The "Weed" commenced here under rather unfavorable auspices, but such were its merits that it rapidly attained popularity and favor. We believe we hazard nothing in saying that probably its retail monthly sales far exceed those of any of its rivals. We might selfishly say, a portion of this success is due to the very liberal patronage of our advertising columns by the Agent, which has gained it a favorable notoriety, but we are also aware that real merit and genuine worth are the best evidences of continued popularity and success. We understand the Weed office is soon to be removed to more central and commodious quarters, the present accommodations being altogether too limited for the business they are doing. We are glad to note such evidences of prosperity in our midst, and in these days, when no family can afford to be without a Sewing Machine, we would refer our patrons to the "Weed," in fullest confidence that tney will find it everything that it is recommended to be; and competent to satisfy fully the expectations of those who may be in want of such an assistant. The office at present is at 112 Grant street, opposite the Cathedral.

One of the Most Remarkable Cases on Record—Statement of the Officers of the German Orphans' Asylum, Troy Hill.

In laying the following remarkable case before the public, we do so with a sincere desire to benefit others likewise afflicted,

Josephine Reichard, aged fifteen, an inmate of the German Orphan's Asylum, Troy Hill, had been deaf and dumb from her infancy. She has lately been operated upon by Dr. Lighthill, 296 Penn street, for the cure of her deafness, which resulted in marked success. She can now hear and distinguish the human voice sufficiently to imitate it, and consequently she speaks already a few words, and is daily improving, both in hearing and speech. She is still under the Doctor's care, who hopes to accomplish a complete cure in time.
